
PELLETIER READY FOR DEEP ROBE OF SIEGEL CRASH

Arrangements were made at the office of Assistant District Attorney Thomas D. Lavelle to go to New York to continue the local investigation into the Henry Siegel case and to bring back with him Attorney Siegel, who is scheduled as a witness before the grand jury next week.

Mr. Lavelle also plans to have an extended talk with Joseph Siegel, nephew of Henry and assistant manager of the former Siegel store in Boston.

A grand jury witness statement has been issued for Joseph Siegel, who was sought at his Boston address, No. 25 Beacon street, until he suddenly disappeared from New York yesterday afternoon when he would come to Boston "gladly."

Mr. Lavelle said that the "cannon service" in New York is "called off." This was done, he says, so that he would be here Monday.

WILL TAKE MYMIONS.

Mr. Lavelle repeated in essential that he has a clear understanding with Joseph Siegel, who is becoming a figure of increasing importance in the case.

The Assistant District Attorney will take with him to New York a witness summons for Joseph Siegel, but that this document is bound to be needed, but as a preliminary step.

Under the present plan Mr. Lavelle will accompany Mr. Siegel to New York.

White Siegel had to Boston. Mr. Siegel has not only fled but for some time against her husband, who has developed a story of absorbing interest by itself, but she has also admitted that there are concealed assets.

On account of the knowledge that Mr. Siegel may have of her husband's affairs—even though they had separated—she is regarded as one of the most valuable witnesses in the Suffolk grand jury's investigation.

Mr. Siegel has expressed by her willingness to come here and testify.

District Attorney Pelletier was due back today from New York. He has been conferring and co-operating with District Attorney William H. Sullivan, who is in the Siegel case.

Mr. William H. Sullivan is to be seen by Mr. Lavelle, who wishes to look over the various documents and find out in the New York and of this case.

DOES DENIAL.

There was a falling in the District Attorney's office today that Mrs. Siegel had promised her counsel, as Mayor Siegel of Pawtucket, to let her husband to answer any questions Mr. Pelletier wishes to ask, she denies Mr. Siegel's charges in the first place, and she also denies that she knows anything of Siegel's financial affairs.

It is also possible that Mr. Brown, the bridegroom in this romance, may be a witness here. Other witnesses will include the editors of the Siegel books, employees in the former Siegel store, and some from New York.

Grand jury investigation are practically complete and the probe will be made promptly Monday.

Following the issuance of bench warrants to enforce the appearance before the United States Court in New York, the investigation of the Siegel case, the partner, came before Judge Charles M. Hough, who has been the most indignant found against the case.

The Attorney General's office is expected to turn over to Receiver Henry Melville today.

GIRL'S RAP AT BOARD STIRS MISS CURTIS

Miss Frances Greeley Curtis of the Boston School Committee today came to the notice of Miss Alice O'Connor, superintendent of the State adult care of the State Board of Charities, who is accused by Miss Alice O'Connor, a Lawrence school teacher, of unconstitutionally hearing during an interview with her concerning a Massachusetts case.

Miss Curtis declared today: "It seems that Miss O'Connor is stirring up a great deal of trouble about nothing at all. She is an agent to be known for the supervising of any other of the applicants. The question has been put aside until the Civil Service Commission reports."

Mayor Scullen of Lawrence will introduce at next Monday's session of the Lawrence City Council a resolution calling on Governor Walsh to remove Superintendent Greeley Curtis. It is called the Lawrence City Council may ask Governor Walsh to inaugurate an investigation into the conduct of the department of the State Board of Charities, with a view to reorganizing it so that the members are in sympathy with the administration of which the City Council is in control.

A wave of indignation over the case of Miss O'Connor is sweeping Lawrence. Her unbecoming words have brought her in contact with those who are ready to march to the State House to demand O'Connor's removal.

The charming young women of the company were, collectively, immensely liked by the audience, even more so by the "Paris Johnnies" who were the speakers.

Walsh Tells HOW RAILROADS DIVIDED LINES

"Some years ago, when there were no independent railways prospering in New England, we met in a private office on Broadway, New York, and plotted. Three Boston & Maine men sat on one side of the table and three New Haven men sat on the other side," declared Governor Walsh, telling how New England paper has been divided. He added: "They took the map of New England and divided it into two parts. The Boston & Maine took what was the southern part, and the New Haven took the northern part."

"Then began with New England railroads a process of buying and stock watering which has been the curse of the country."

"Ten years ago New Haven stocks were sold at no government bonds. An expert told us within a week that the actual book value of them was not over $10 a share."

ELLIOTT WILL REVEAL ALL TO STOCKHOLDERS

Stockholders of the New Haven will be informed by chairman Elliott next week the reasons why the road felt obliged to make an agreement with the Department of Justice to avoid a dissolution suit. In a long letter Chairman Elliott will deal with a clear breast of the whole deal so that the stockholders will know how to act when they are asked to vote to approve the action of the directors.

Chairman Elliott will tell the stockholders that the road is in an embarrassed financial condition that it could not afford to engage in litigation with the government and run the risk of an adverse decision. He will advise the shareholders that the stockholders are to accept the conditions and secure the best possible gain attainable for the trolley and steamship properties, with the hope of retaining the most profitable of the Sound steamboat companies.

MISS SMITHS READY TO USE JOKE LICENSE

The Rev. Dr. J. Stanley Parker of the South Congregational Church, Brooklyn, who announced he would "throw in" a marriage certificate he made out for a "Miss Smith and James Anderson," as a result of an April Fool joke in which the clergyman, with five others, was summoned to a carriage on the pretext of marrying a couple, must now make good.

The only hitch now is to find James Anderson, who has a "Miss Smith" already engaged to be married. He does not divulge the address of the young woman who sent him a letter today, but it bore a Boston postmark.

"My profession is that of a clergyman," declared Dr. Parker, "and I am far from being a matchmaker, but the particular case, involving it, has assured that it is not another joke. I'll marry the couple at half price and throw in the certificate."

FINANCIAL REVERIES TO FLOOD ON SALARY RISSES

The Finance Commission's report, submitted to the Mayor this morning, contains a recommendation that every body else in sight for increases in salaries in the police and other departments has whirled clouds of political dust into the air, and the city politicians today are running around in small circles and screaming.

"The Finance Commission is lined up with Curley!"

Furthermore, the former Mayor came forth with a reply to the commission's strictures on his conduct, and dares any member of the commission to come to the City Club next Thursday evening and hear him tear the mink from him. It is at this City Club meeting the former Mayor will tell Mayor Curley or John A. Sullivan to meet him in mortal battle.

SHALL I REPLY BY FITZ?

The commission's criticism of the Mayor's conduct and of the Police Commissioner's, for allowing the former Mayor to raise salaries in their department, Mr. Fitzgerald had this to say:

"If the Finance Commission had sent to me I would have told them how the present administration could have met the increases of salaries in the Fire and Police Departments, and without increasing the taxes."

"But without trying to get the information which they are paid to secure and place before the public, I prefer, like other prominent officials at City Hall, to find a loophole through which they may escape attacks against the Police Commissioner, and myself."

"I shall tell the story of the fire and police increases at the Boston City Club, Thursday evening, April 9. I hope that some member or members of the Finance Commission will be there to ask such questions as will throw the fullest publicity on this and all other acts of my administration."

ASKS 'WASH FUND' PROBE.

The Finance Commission has the $400,000 "wash fund" appropriated by the Boston City Club for constant investigation by both the police and fire commissioners. It believes the Mayor's fee for the police raises is $15,000 or more, and that the fire raises are $10,000 or more. The commission declares that "the remarkable forgetfulness of these actual charges of the $400,000 'wash' fund is a strong impression on their testimony was untruthful."

The commission makes the following recommendation:

"That the Mayor take whatever action necessary to prevent the employment of counsel on matters within the province of the Mayor, on one hand, and heads of departments on the other.

That the police regulations be amended to forbid such employment of counsel, instead of the present attempt at prohibition now contained in rule 5, paragraph 2.

That in all departments rules be established, if they are not already existing, permitting the interview of the public by the heads of departments free of all previous attempts at prohibition now contained in rule 5, paragraph 2.

FINDS O'MEARA LAX.

The commission finds that the Mayor's duty under the law "to have refused to consent with the former Mayor and to have suggested that the question of increases should be referred to the Finance Commission" is not a "futile and apparently unlawful means of securing changes."

The commission finds evidence to warrant the belief that the $400,000 was to be used improperly to obtain the interest of some unknown person to have an ordinance enacted which would prevent the Finance Commission from making any further investigation of the members of the fire department.

"Because the books of account were not kept, and the witnesses made untruthful statements or testified 'I forgot,' 'I don't remember,' or 'I do not recall,' the commission is forced to believe that the 'affair,' which was to cost $400,000, was apparently in the hands of some one."

"FORGETFULNESS REMARKABLE."

"In the opinion of the Finance Commission, the employment of counsel by the men in the fire department for increases in salaries is as much to be avoided as is similar employment in the police department."

The commission further recommends that the Mayor be further investigated by the present fire commissioner, and also by the police commissioner, as one of the men who testified is at present connected with the police department.

"The testimony of the various persons, members of the fire and the police departments, affected by the present investigation, is so contradictory and made a part of this report that the commission is forced to believe that the evidence is so convincing that it speaks for itself."

The commission makes the following recommendation:

"That the Mayor take whatever action necessary to prevent the employment of counsel on matters within the province of the

Pope Gives Easter Message to World

LONDON, April 9.—In a remarkable message to the world for Easter, the Pope, through the Standard's Rome correspondent, declares:

"The message of the church to the world at Easter is the eternal one. It is this: Christ has risen. But, though the message is an old one, it has its application always to the newest events. Hence it is a message which always has a new force."

Christ rose to bring peace to the world. It is thus the duty of His followers to strive to bring about peace.

I pray, and I desire that all should pray, that this Easter may bring peace to all the world.

In our minds there rises first of all the thought of two regions of the earth which most of all at the present time stand in need of this blessing—the Balkans in the old world, Mexico in the new world. May Easter bring them peace. May all who control the destinies of the nations work to this end, and with this peace may there come inspiration that their ideal which alone is a guarantee of universal peace should be instaurate omnia in Christo (to build everything on Christ).

PROGRESSIVES STRANGE LOVE IMPOSE TREATY WITH COLUMBIA OF CALLEUX

(WASHINGTON, April 9.—) Bitter opposition to ratification of the treaty with Colombia and the United States, which the former country received $25,000,000 in settlement of the dispute over the Panama Canal, is being developed by the Progressives.

At a meeting of the committee on the treaty, which was held at the Hotel Hamilton, it was asserted that the terms of settlement, in which the United States, in return for the canal, gave Colombia the right to the use of the canal, was a "strange love" for the United States to have.

SAYS HARVARD IS IN TWO DANGER OF FIRE DISASTER

The Harvard Alumni Bulletin prints an inquiry from John T. Boyd, Jr., class of 1906, "May not a tragedy similar to the burning of College Hall at Wellesley occur at Harvard in certain of the older buildings?"

And the Bulletin in another column declares that nothing short of an earthquake could work any such disaster on Harvard. The Bulletin explains:

"The Harvard Physical Laboratory is almost wholly under sprinklers, which would not be the case in the case of the older buildings. The Bulletin declares that nothing short of an earthquake could work any such disaster on Harvard. The Bulletin explains:

SUES ESTATE OF HIS MOTHER FOR EXPENSES

SON'S BILLS AGAINST ESTATE OF MOTHER.

August 1, 1909, to October 1, 1910, board of nurse, $250.
October 1, 1901, to October 3, 1902, board and clothes of Mary B. Mills at $10 a week, $2,000.
October 1, 1902, to October 1, 1910, similar service at $15 a week, $2,250.
October 1, 1910, to June 25, 1911, similar service at $10 a week, $1,250.

Each paid nurse, $192; cash paid physician, $150; cash paid undertaker, $112; payment on mortgage, $1,127.50; tax to city of Chelsea, $3,117.50; tax to town of Beverly, $447.50; loaned Mary B. Mills, $1,119.15.

In an attempt to recover for the board of his mother and for other expenses arising from the care of her, Edward Everett Mills of Chelsea has brought suit for $25,000 in the Suffolk Superior Court against the estate of the late Mary B. Mills.

The papers on file name David J. McInerney, administrator of the estate. Mills claims that the estate owes him $11,223.69 for bills he paid for his mother.

An unusual feature of the case is the fact that the plaintiff in the suit shared equally with three other heirs in the estate of his mother, which, so far as known, consists of $100,000.

At the time of the death of Mrs. Mills all the property that could be found that actually stood in her name was the old homestead. Under her will her property was to be divided into four equal parts which were to go to four of her children or their heirs. A fifth child was eliminated under the will.

Pastors' Food Now Food for Thought

"Is it to be a buffet lunch or a seven-course dinner for the minister?" This is the question attending the delegates to the convention of the Episcopal Church of Massachusetts on April 25. Henry M. Upham of the committee of hospitality favors the course dinner. "The ministers have always anticipated this dinner," says Mr. Upham. "They will not anticipate a buffet lunch."

TRY FOR LAST BOSTON $5,000 FOR HOME RULE

Today the executive committee of the United Irish League of Boston meets at the House Headquarters, room 41, State Building, to make arrangements for an active campaign to redeem the pledge made by Massachusetts at the last convention. At that time the sum of $20,000 was pledged, of that amount over $15,000 has been received.

When the Irish Home Rule bill comes up for the last time in London, a few weeks hence, T. B. Fitzpatrick of Boston, national treasurer of the United Irish League of America, plans to send Fitzpatrick to Ireland for the cause. Since the 1912 convention in Philadelphia Mr. Fitzpatrick has already sent $10,000 to the trustees of the fund in Ireland.

Mr. Fitzpatrick reports receiving the following: United Irish League of Chicago, $2,500; as a result of its St. Patrick's Day meeting, Toronto, Can., $121; completing its pledge of $2,000; Lowell, $250; Springfield, $100; Portland, Ore., $100.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—Mrs. Marie E. King, a beautiful part Hawaiian beauty, now in Honolulu, received a wireless decree of divorce from her husband, Mr. J. H. King, secretary of the Hawaiian Oil Company, so that she might wed another man.

The King separated in 1909, and Mrs. King sued for divorce, charging desertion. The interlocutory decree was granted April 12, and Mrs. King returned to her island home. In Honolulu she met a wealthy man whose name is withheld. She decided to wed him at last minute. Mrs. King remembered that the first decree of divorce from

He is a man of the house, and he is a man of the house.

SUFFRAGISTS INVITE MEN TO JOIN PARADE

Men of Massachusetts who have answered to various calls since the day of '76, are now called upon by Mrs. Thomas P. C. T. to join the parade on May 2 through Boston streets. She has written to every man in the city to join the parade.

Next week's parade, it is the woman's call, and she believes the men will be the first to answer it. The parade will be held on May 2, 1914, and will be a great success.

As a result of the big suffrage parade on May 2, 1914, the men of the state who would like to stand up and be counted for a cause that is just to match with the suffragists in its purpose.
